This is TOO future, freakin 4036 years from present day 2018, thats like 2018 happening twice!

Your brain literally cannot take anymore future and you brick like an iPhone set with its date before Jan1 1970. GAME OVER...

You're walking in the park on a hiking trail and you come across something shiny on the floor, you bend down to take a closer look and you see it's a compass. The compass looks strange to you because instead of the cardinal directions N,S,E,W each "direction" is a different period in time. 2018 B.C., 0 B.C., 4036 A.D., 6054 A.D. The choice is yours to visit the past or future. Do you go to 2018 B.C., 0 B.C., 4036 A.D., or 6045 A.D.?

The future, wow is it what you expected? Electric flying cars, Bitcoin is the only form of currency and everyone lives off soylent green!?

Everything is great you have 1M bitcoin in the bank, flying around in your Stingray until you hear some unsettling news over the air... SOYLENT GREEN IS PEOPLE..

You wake up ALONE and you become the real life version of squidward in that white room from the time traveling episode of spongebob

You start walking "South" and find yourself 4036 years back into the past!

You start walking "North" but the more you keep walking the more Continue on your quest through time.

You find yourself at a crossroads, you're both tired and eager to explore, what do you do?

Youre dead. You got eaten by a woolly mammoth.

Take a nap.

FUTUREEEE!!!! (Insert meme of frozen squidward screaming)

Ride off into the sunset with your new friend!

Befriend a woolly mammoth.
