

end of game

end of game 🗨

Starts to create a habit of missing classes/ other important priorities in life.

CHOICE A: Don't pay attention to advice

CHOICE A: Doesn't prepare for interview

Results in not getting the job.

CHOICE A: Don't go to class.

Decision to go to class or not.

Successfully makes a connection and obtains a job interview

Goal of the non-linear story: to demonstrate how minor decisions and moments in life impact the result of future situations.

CHOICE B: Go to class.

Special guest comes in from your profession of interest, to share their expirence of getting to their achievements in that career field.

CHOICE B: Use this as an opportunity to make a connection with them in hopes of getting an internship position at the company or interview.

(opportunities given from choice B but at a slower pace of achieving goals/ intentions)

CHOICE C: Take advice and apply it to your future decisions

CHOICE B: prepare for job interview and apply advice from the special guest.

Take advantage of opportunities and achieves initial goal.

Gets internship which will lead into making more connections and opportunities.